

Virtual machine–based application deployment

Isolates apps by running multiple VMs per physical server; still needs to manage each guest OS!

Container-based application deployment

Isolates apps using features of the host OS, such as Linux cgroups.